Wizard AND THE Genius

"RIVALS OF THE BRAIN"

"WELL, WIZARD AND THE GENIUS DECIDED TO FINISH THE CHIMNEY AND SURPRISE THEIR FATHER....!"

"WHEN THE TWO DUMMOS HAD PULLED THE BARREL UP, THEY WERE HEAVIER THAN IT WAS. NOW WITH THE WIZARD ALONE AT THE END OF THE ROPE, THE BARREL WAS HEAVIER....!"

"....UP WENT WIZARD!--- DOWN CAME THE BARREL...!"

"...HALFWAY DOWN, THE BARREL MET WIZARD COMING UP...!"

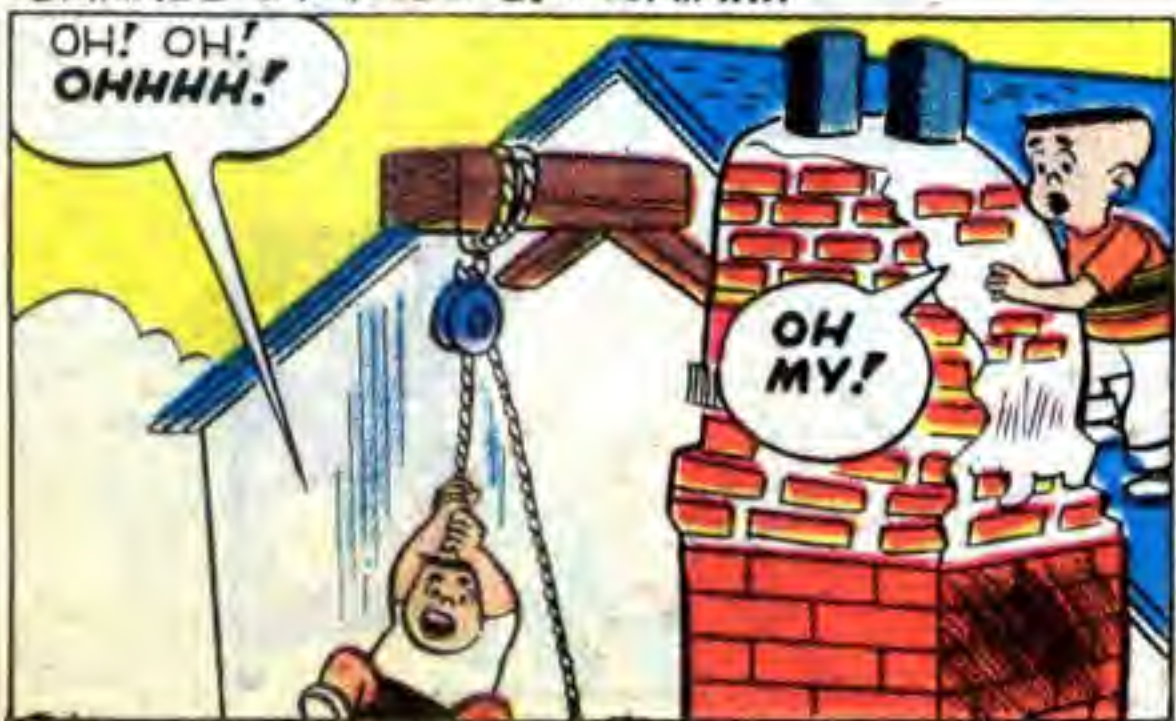

"BUT WIZARD STILL HUNG ON THE ROPE-- AND THEN HE REACHED THE TOP...!"

"....AT THE SAME TIME, THE BARREL HIT THE GROUND--SO HARD THAT ITS BOTTOM SMASHED AND THE BRICKS FELL OUT...!"

"...NOW WIZARD WAS HEAVIER THAN THE BARREL! HE STARTED DOWN --AND THE BARREL STARTED UP AGAIN...!"

"...HALFWAY DOWN, WIZARD MET THE BARREL AGAIN!"

"...BUT WIZARD STILL HUNG ON TO THE ROPE SOMEHOW..."

"UNTIL HE HIT THE GROUND - HARD - AND THEN THE SHOCK FINALLY MADE HIM LET GO OF THE ROPE!"

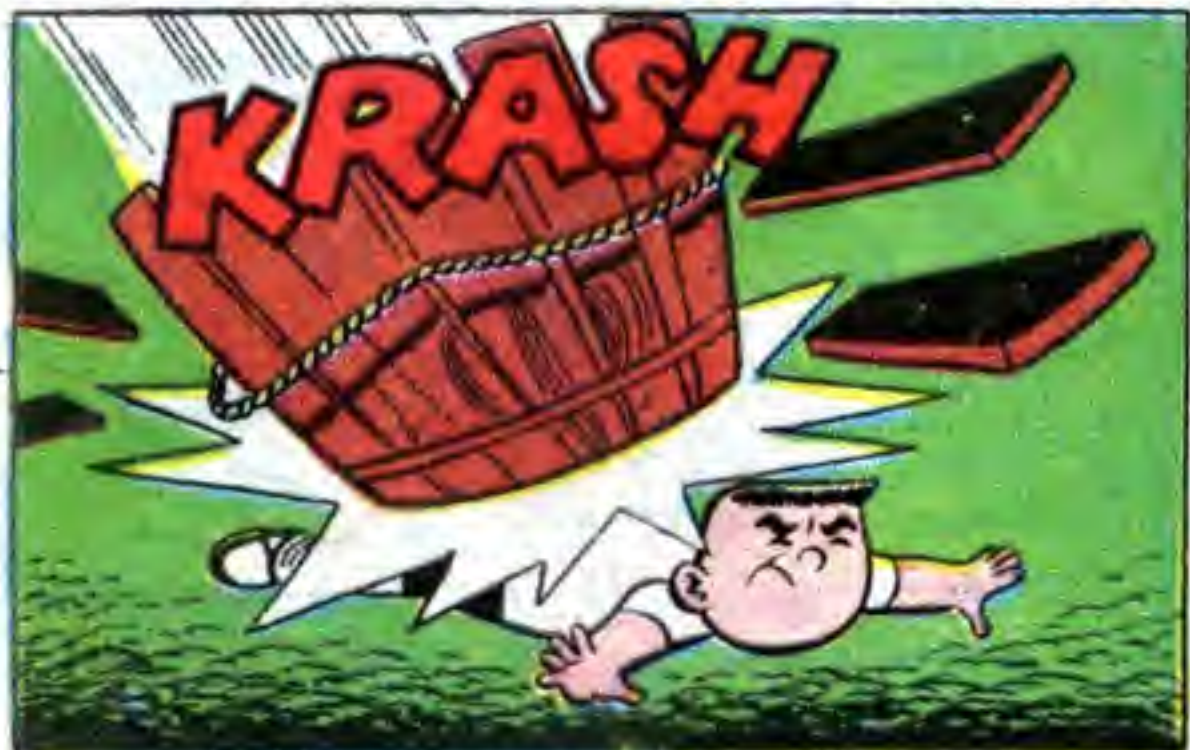

"...WITH THE END OF THE ROPE RELEASED, DOWN CAME THE BARREL..."

POOR WIZARD! I CAN'T LOOK!

"...AND ONCE AGAIN THE TWO OLD FRIENDS... WIZARD AND THE BARREL--MET TERRIFICALLY!"

"...AT THE SAME TIME, THE GENIUS'S WEIGHT PROVED TOO MUCH FOR THE STILL FRESH MORTAR OF THE CHIMNEY!"

SO, I GUESS YOU DON'T HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT THE DUMMOS AS RIVALS---HEY, BRAIN! WHAT IS THAT SUPPOSED TO BE?

I DUNNO. I FORGOT WHAT I WAS MAKING!

THE BRAIN!

FELLOW BRAINS!

So many of you are writing to me that I can't use the typewriter any more, but have to have these correspondence pages set up in type — so I can get more into the space I have available. But don't think I mind! Nope! I love it!

Just keep right on writing and sending me your Brainstorms! The more the merrier! The wackier, the better. I like to get letters, so I guess you do too. So, I'll print your names and addresses if you give them to me, and then you can write to each other if you want. Like this. . . .

Some letters come in to me with no street addresses, such as one I got from PAT MURPHY, of El Dorado, Kansas. I guess there are some towns where those addresses aren't needed, but it's best to make sure. Then, again, some of you give me little puzzles — although I'm sure you don't mean to: for instance, one letter was from a boy whose name is either BOB T. KOCH, or BOB TKOCH, I can't be sure. Anyhow, Bob lives at 2424 Fernwood Avenue, in San Jose, California, and he tells me he is ten years old.

Here are some more Brainstormers — and I'm sorry I don't have enough space to explain all the Brainstorms they sent me . . . some of the ideas were way out in space!

You might remember that I once mentioned that I was trying to figure out a way to make a piece of bread-and-jelly fall with the jelly-side up in case you dropped it? Well, several geniuses wrote in to tell me how to do it—so that problem is solved!

JAMES BRENNER, 4420 N. Temple City Boulevard, Rosemead, Calif., was one of the jelly experts, and he also sent in another Brainstorm. PAUL W. ABERNATHY, JR. of 509 Calhoun Street, Mishawaka, Indiana, used logic to work out the jelly-bread puzzle: he ended up by having me stand on my head when I ate bread-and-jelly! But it was JAMES TOZIER of Van Buren, Maine, who came up with such a trick answer that I had it drawn by our artist; you'll see it on another page of this issue.

The mail is arriving from all over. One Brainstorm, from MIKE WADE, came from the Kai Aloha Hotel, in Waikiki, Honolulu. And where people live seems to have an effect on the Brainstorming they do: TRICIA BATES, 2546 Rogers, Ft. Worth, Texas, sent in an idea for a Scorpion-Smasher! (We don't have those animules around here!)

My friends seem to be all ages, teen-agers, 'tween-agers, and what-have-you. MICHAEL STEWART, who is 7 and who lives at 24900 Saxony Street, East Detroit, Mich., sent me his picture and also a Rabbit-Trap Brainstorm. . . . Now I think I'll list some more names:

BOBBY EISMAN

I notice from some of the letters that certain kids are getting together on Brainstorms. For instance, TOM FUOCO and NANCY OWEN, who both live on Watsom Lane, in Setauket, New York, sent in ideas. TOM LOTT and STEVE LUNDY, of Hart Run, Eagles Mere, Pa., got together on a Burglar Trap—which they say they tested and proved that it works.

There seems to be something like a Brain fan-club in Erlanger, Kentucky. From that town, CLIFFORD and DOUGLAS WAINSCOTT, of 102 Stevenson Road, and RUSSEL PETTIBONE, of 209 Mary Street, sent in Brainstorms. Clifford had another Burglar Alarm; Douglas was involved with a dog chasing a cat up a tree; Russel had a tricky way of getting a dog in for his bath. Burglar Alarms seem to be the most popular inventions: CHARLES COLE, 10 Woodlawn Ave., Coudersport, Pa., just turned up (by way of the mail) with another one!

Some of you nice people really must be working overtime on your Brainstorming. One girl, VALERIE EADS, 1653 Foulkrod St., Philadelphia, Pa., sent in five ideas!—a Fly-Catcher, a Board-Sander, a Book-Page-Turner, a Mouse-Trap, and a Homework-Doer—and she made her own envelope too, out of a sheet of copy-paper. Busy, busy, busy!

Then there's JOE DiEMEDIO, JR., in Wilmington, Delaware, who sent in a Burglar-Trap. He tells me he has his own inventing company! (Maybe I ought to go into business with him?) GEOFFREY WEISS, 31 S. Bayard Ave., Woodbury, N. J., worked out a complicated Brainstorm to be used by people who don't hear alarm clocks; it looks like anybody using the thing would wind up in an even deeper sleep—because the final step in the operation is a swinging mallet that clunks the sleeper on the head!

We're getting near press-time, so I'll have to stop soon. But the mail's still coming in. A Brainstorm from SKIPPER HOCKETT, 2100 W. 134th Place, Gardena, California. Another from JERRY DWELLUS (I'm not sure I have that name right), Route 1, Welch, Oklahoma. Ah ha! SCOTT DUNCAN, 2355 Remington Road, Trenton, N. J., comes along with another Jelly-Side-Upper!

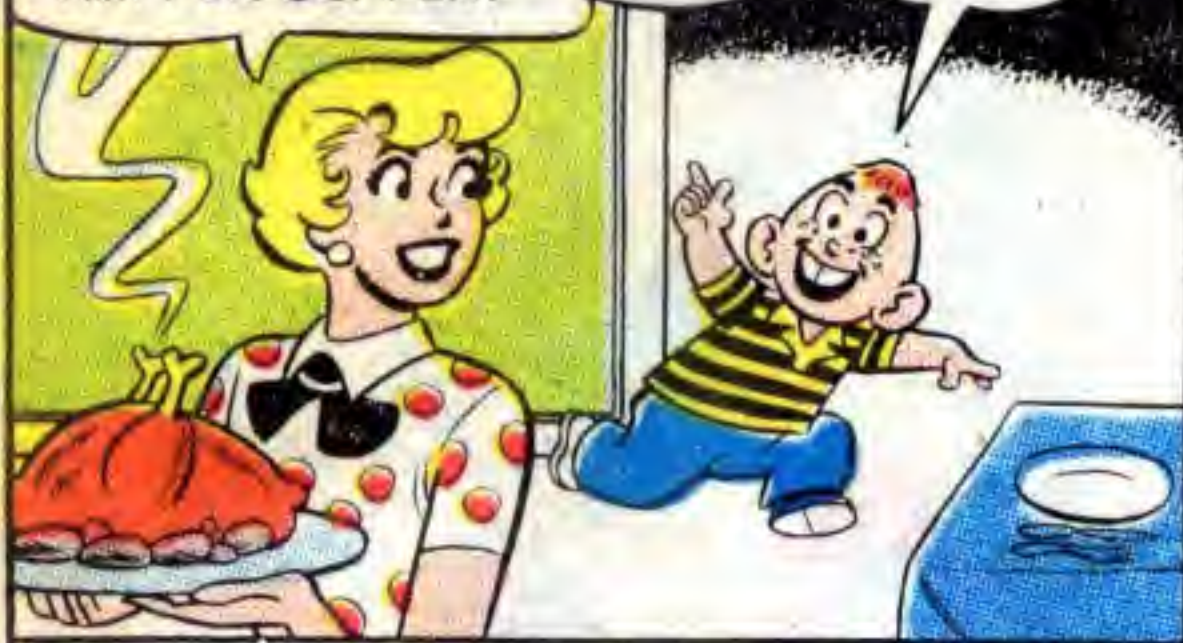

Best regards,
